Canneries For Kentucky.

We are glad to see in our weekly exchanges notices of new canning establishments that have recently been established in many Kentucky towns.

But we have not nearly enough such concerns and their number should be multiplied many times over.

In Kentucky every year many million dollars worth of fruits and vegetables are left to rot, are entirely lost, which could be saved and marketed at a fine profit.

Kentucky pays many millions of dollars every year for goods canned in the North and West which can be supplied by home enterprise.

Kentucky ought never to have to buy at any point outside of her own borders a single can of tomatoes, corn, peaches, pears or any other kind of vegetable or fruit.

And train loads of such articles are imported into Kentucky every year from states which are no better producers of vegetables and fruit than Kentucky herself.

The canning concerns which are in operation in this state pay well and will pay in almost any section of the State if managed on business principles.

The people of Kentucky, those in the towns and those on the farms, should bestir themselves in this matter. By individual enterprise, or cooperative effort, the number of canneries in Kentucky could be easily doubled and even trebled—and it would pay handsomely to do it.

It does not require much capital to start a cannery which would save much of the surplus vegetables and fruits that now go to waste in and about every town in the state.

The weekly newspapers of the state can accomplish much good by agitating this subject and showing to the communities in which they are published the easy and profitable possibilities of the canning industry.—Jackson Hustler.

C. F. Tharp came very near being drowned last Sunday morning. He went in bathing and was taken with cramps, and went down three times, but was rescued by his brother and Mrs. Thos. Rice.

Protracted meeting will begin at Powell's Valley Baptist church the 4th Saturday in this month. The pastor will be assisted by Eld. J. G. Parson, Eastern Kentucky Evangelist. All invited to attend. "Sand Cutter."

Few roads, if any, in this section have done the extensive advertising that has been done by the "Henderson Route," and from all reports, they are reaping the benefit that is sure to follow judicious advertising. Mr. L. J. Irwin, the general passenger agent, has done a great deal to make his road popular, and the enforced additional equipment and new heavy rail attest the success with which he is meeting.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

MAYOR.

I am a candidate for Mayor of Clay City before the regular November election.

I am in favor of good schools, and a Board of Education to look after it and visit the school at least once a month and report to the Council. I am in favor of a new iron bridge where the old pontoon bridge now is, the town to furnish half the money and county the other. I favor the putting in of a water system for protection from fire, and am in favor of building a City Hall, and last, but not least, I am in favor of keeping the streets and sidewalks in good repair. B. LITTLEPAGE, M. D.

What about a street sprinkler for Clay City these dry times or an extension of the water main from the Company store to the upper end of our city? Let's talk it up for we need it badly, especially the water main.

Miss Jennie Lowry, daughter of Joe Lowry, died at Natural Bridge July 21 with consumption, aged about 17 years. The remains were brought here for burial. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church by Eld. A. Easter.

Rev. R. A. Irvin has been given the Pompey school this year. He was not an applicant for the school. This is one instance where the school sought the man. We seldom hear of the like, for as a rule there are five or six applicants for each school. The trustees of this school have made a wise selection. They have the interest of the children at heart, and they will be rewarded by having a good school taught them this year.

THE LATEST DRESS MATERIALS.

A very valuable feature of the August Delineator is that which illustrates by photographic process the latest dress materials, accompanying the illustrations with a running comment, so as to guide those who wish to have the fullest knowledge of materials before going shopping. This is one of the features of a practical character that makes The Delineator so highly esteemed by women. The same number also goes very fully into the subject of trimmings and other dainty accessories to dress.

Kentucky has some of the brightest and ablest country papers in America, says the Lexington Herald. Within the last week one of the greatest dailies in New York reproduced articles from three or four of these journals, and they are quoted more than the small papers of any other State in the Union.

It is stated that before September all the big companies producing bituminous coal will have been gathered into one organization similar to the United States Steel Corporation, and that preliminary steps have already been taken for the purpose of forming the combine. Its capitalization is expected to be second only to that of the steel trust.

A woman is instrumental in converting many sinners in Missouri. In one of her addresses the other day she said: "There is a man in this house who is untrue to his wife! I am going to throw this hymn book at him!" She raised the book as if she was going to throw it, and every man in the house but one ducked his head to avoid the book. Then she blistered the dodgers and lauded the one true man. It was afterward learned that he was deaf and dumb.

Shooting Over a Cent.

At Gates in the eastern part of Rowan county, Wm. McNickel and a man named McCormick fell out over one cent in making change, and came to blows, Mack Howell joined in the fight.

Knives, guns and a hatchet were freely used, and as a result all three men were mortally wounded. McNickel had his arm almost severed from his body, besides receiving numerous other cuts. At last accounts the men were barely alive.

The "Henderson Route" officials report very heavy travel via their line to Oklahoma, account opening of the new land.

Electric Lines For Kentucky.

The Louisville, Anchorage & Pewee Valley Electric Railway Company has completed arrangements with Eastern and Western capitalists to issue $18,000,000 of forty-year five per cent. gold bonds, and the purpose is to grid-iron a considerable part of Kentucky with a system of interurban electric railways. The line from Louisville to Pewee Valley is the trunk from which branches will be run all through the Blue Grass section of the State, extending as far as Stanford and Richmond.

What a Lemon Will Do.

Lemonade made from the juice of lemon is one of the best and safest drinks for any person, whether in health or not. It is suitable for stomach diseases, excellent in sickness, in case of jaundice, gravel, liver complaint, inflammation, worms and skin complaints. The pipin crushed may be used with sugar and water and taken as a drink. Lemon juice is the best antiscorbutic remedy known. It not only cures the disease but prevents it. Some people make daily use of it for purpose.

Neuralgia, it is said, may be cured by rubbing the parts affected with a cut lemon. It is also valuable to cure warts. It will remove dandruff by rubbing the roots of the hair with it. It will alleviate and finally cure coughs and colds, and heal diseased lungs if taken hot on going to bed at night. It will also be a great use in making old straw hats look more white. Its uses are manifold and the more we employ it internally the better we shall find ourselves. Just try it.—Ex.

In one of the lower counties of Kentucky recently a ragged, disreputable tramp stole a pair of oxen and sold them. A shrewd young lawyer undertook his defense and when the case was called a well dressed, clean shaved, good looking young man took his place in the dock. The change was so great that none of the men who had seen him with the oxen were able to identify him, and he was acquitted.

The Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis Railway—"Henderson Route"—is relaying its entire road with new heavy steel rail, which is bound to make it still more popular with the public.

What to Do in Case of Sunstroke.

At this year it is well to refresh one's memory regarding the proper course of action when a case of sunstroke or heat prostration is to be treated without loss of time. When one feels headache, a sense of weakness at the knees and a suggestion of nausea, the symptoms are warning that should be heeded at once, or or they may verge into unconsciousness. Sometimes loss of consciousness occurs without warning, however. When the attack is accompanied by evidences of great heat, without perspiration in the face, head and body, with pulse full and rapid, the object should be to reduce the temperature of the body immediately. Strip the patient and wrap in a sheet, kept wet with cold water by frequent sprinkling, until consciousness returns. When this method is not practicable put cloths wrung out of ice water on the head, back of the neck and the hands.

In some cases of heat exhaustion the symptoms are different. The face is only slightly flushed or, may be pale, the skin is moist, perhaps even cool, and the pulse rapid and feeble. In this case let the sufferer rest in a quiet room, and give moderate stimulant gradually, without applying cold.

Alcohol drinks should be avoided in hot weather, as they make the body more susceptible to the influence of the heat.—Ex.

A Cup of Good Coffee

To get a really good cup of coffee you'll have to start back of the actual making; you'll have to look to the roasting and the grinding. In ARBUCKLES' you have a coffee that's scientifically roasted, and delivered to you with all the pores of the berry hermetically sealed. You're sure of a good cup of coffee because all the coffee flavor and aroma are kept intact until you want it. The fame of ARBUCKLES' induced other coffee packers to put out imitations of it. These imitations cost the grocer (and you) a cent a pound less than ARBUCKLES'. But don't be tempted to buy a package of some other coffee when you can get for it is actually less expensive than the cheap kind; goes further—besides being better flavored, more satisfying.

You will find a list of useful articles in each package of Arbuckles' Coffee. A definite part of one of these articles becomes yours when you buy the coffee. The one you select from the list will be sent you on condition that you send to our Notion Department a certain number of signatures cut from the wrappers.
